

Mission Statement

Middlesex Community College is a progressive and dynamic learning community, committed to providing educational programs and services that support personal growth and economic opportunity for its diverse student population. Dedicated to student success, the College provides excellence in teaching, personal attention, and extensive opportunities for exploration and growth. Closely linked to the fabric of the community, Middlesex partnerships with school, business and service organizations provide leadership in economic and community development and foster a culture of civic engagement and responsive workforce development. The College's state-of-the-art programs in the liberal arts, basic skills, and more than 50 career and technical fields respond to student and community needs, providing a strong foundation for college transfer, employment, professional development and lifelong learning.

The Smart Choice

Chances are if you're reading this you are already thinking about taking college courses. And, you probably already know that a college education statistically increases your chances of getting a better paying job and getting ahead. Deciding where to go to college, however, is a choice that should not be left to chance.

As the largest community college in Massachusetts, Middlesex offers a choice of 76 degree and certificate programs -- including the only Radio Frequency Identification Technology Technician Program in New England, a new Energy Utility Technology Program offered in collaboration with National Grid and a new, online Criminal Justice Program. Additionally, if you decide to come to MCC, I can promise you that you will become part of a nurturing college community totally focused on your success.

So, before you choose a college or future career path, I encourage you to visit a Middlesex campus, in Bedford or Lowell, and make an appointment with one of our highly trained academic counselors. Chances are that you'll be glad you did.
