

Sample MLA Works Cited Page

Works Cited

- An Inconvenient Truth*. Directed by Davis Guggenheim, Performance by Al Gore, Paramount, 2006. (Film)
- "Executive on a Mission: Saving the Planet." The New York Times, 22 May 2007, p. 18. (Article with no author, newspaper)
- "The Facts on Junk Food Marketing and Kids." Prevention Institute, www.preventioninstitute.org/focus-areas. Accessed 24 May 2015. (Webpage, no author, access date for online source with no update date)
- "Global Warming Economics." Science, vol. 9, Nov. 2001, pp. 1283-84, www.scienceonline.com. (Article with page numbers, no author, journal's webpage)
- Leroux, Mark, and Errol Morris. Global Warming: Myth or Reality? Random House, 2005. (Book, 2 authors)
- Milken, Michael, et al. "On Global Warming and Financial Imbalances." New Perspectives Quarterly, vol. 23, no. 4, 2006, p. 63. (Journal article, 3 or more authors)
- Neergaard, Luran, and Jennifer Agiesta. "Obesity's a Crisis but We Want Our Junk Food, Poll Shows." Huffington Post, 4 Jan 2013, www.huffingtonpost.com. (Article from online news magazine)
- Nordhaus, William D. "After Kyoto: Mechanisms to Control Global Warming." American Economic Review, vol. 96, no. 2, 2006, pp. 31-34, EBSCO, go.galegroup.com/. (Journal article from database)
- Putin, Vladimir. Interview by Charlie Rose, Charlie Rose: This Week, PBS, 19 June 2015. (Interview, television)
- Sayrafiezaden, Said. "Paranoia." New American Stories, edited by Ben Marcus, Vintage Books, 2015, pp. 3-29. (Selection from anthology)
- United States, Department of Agriculture and Department of Health and Human Services. Dietary Guidelines for Americans, 2010, www.health.gov/dietaryguidelines.pdf. (Government agency as author)

Excerpted from PurdueOwl.edu and A Pocket Style Manual by Diana Hacker
For more details about specific Work Cited scenarios, go to <https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/section/2/11/>