

Middlesex Community College and the
The Asian Studies Development Program

PRESENT MODERN CHINA

February 10, 2014

East Café - Bedford Campus

This FREE workshop explores Contemporary Chinese Society with a particular focus on Economics, Politics, Ethics and Psychology

WORKSHOP SCHEDULE

For more information:

Dona Cady

Dean of Global Education

978-656-3470

cadyd@middlesex.mass.edu

This workshop is part of a series of ongoing Title VI events organized by Middlesex Community College with the generous support of the Asian Studies Development Program, which is funded and sponsored by the East-West Center and the University of Hawai'i, Honolulu

- 9:30-10:20 Between Two Earthquakes: The Change in the Structure of Feelings in China
Everett Zhang, Assistant Professor of East Asian Studies, Princeton University
- 10:30-11:20 Between Two Earthquakes: Part II
Everett Zhang
- 11:30-12:20 Sino-Capitalism: Understanding China's International Reemergence and its Global Implications
Chris McNally, Associate Professor of Political Economy at Chaminade University
- 12:30-1:20 Sino-Capitalism: Part II
Chris McNally