National First-Generation Day!

On November 8th, join us in celebrating National First-Generation Day, dedicated to recognizing the remarkable achievements of first-generation college students and professionals. These pioneers in their families, despite unique challenges, exhibit resilience and determination that inspire future generations. It's a day to amplify awareness, offer support, and share success stories for first-generation individuals. At MCC, our First Generation Employee Resource Group is stronger than ever! Check out our picture from this semester's fall event!
